Lesnes Abbey Woods, sometimes known as Abbey Wood, is an area of ancient woodland in southeast London, England. The most unusual feature of the woods is the startling sight in spring of carpets of wild daffodils. Their presence indicates that these woods are ancient, for they are a species which flourishes only in areas which have been woodland for centuries.

Follow the marker posts up through the woods, then turn right to reach and cross over New Road.

Re-enter the woods. Turn left soon to follow the marker posts up to the pond and continue.

At Bostall Hill (A206) turn right then left to cross the road. Follow the path around the eastern edge of the cricket field and cross Longleigh Lane into Bostall Woods at the Green Chain major signpost where this section ends.
